

Biblical nature metaphors have much to teach us about life and harmonious relationships, and provide rich lessons in sustainability for the world. On Saturday, February 11th from 1:00pm to 2:30pm, at First Church of Christ, Scientist, Los Altos, a program for Christian Scientists will be offered by David & Cindy Martin of Inspiresight. David & Cindy are Christian Scientists, life-long Bible students, landscape architects and sustainable land use ecologists. The program focuses on the Biblical Nature Metaphors of Trees & Plants, and how the Bible and Mrs. Eddy's writings provide concrete guidelines and answers to today's most contemporary challenges. The program is not political in nature but looks at how prayer and listening for God's inspiration can bring healing and solutions. There will also be inspirational songs interspersed throughout the program.

To see more information about this program and register, go online to www.christiansciencelosaltos.org. You can also see the InspireSight flyer _____.

Have you ever wondered how we can be fulfilling Jesus' command to engage in "greater works", and what those might be? Setting aside time for prayer about environmental challenges, hunger, poverty, or world health issues could be part of the answer. InspireSight programs are an opportunity for Christian Scientists to gather and participate in exploring how an understanding of the spiritual substance of the universe can contribute to healing.

On Saturday, February 11th from 1:00pm to 2:30pm, at First Church of Christ, Scientist, Los Altos, a program for Christian Scientists will be offered by David & Cindy Martin of Inspiresight. David & Cindy are Christian Scientists, life-long Bible students, landscape architects and sustainable land use ecologists. The program focuses on the Biblical Nature Metaphors of Trees & Plants, and how the Bible and Mrs. Eddy's writings provide inspirational answers to today's most contemporary challenges. There will be inspirational songs interspersed through-out the program.

To see more information about this program and register, go online to www.christiansciencelosaltos.org. You can also see the InspireSight flyer _____.

Biblical nature metaphors relate to current environmental challenges today. These challenges provide opportunities for prayer and healing in our communities and in the world. Exploring lesser known Biblical nature metaphors and the light Mrs. Eddy's writings bring to this important topic, will be the focus of a two ½ hour program on Saturday, February 11th from 1:00pm to 2:30pm at First Church of Christ, Scientist, Los Altos.

The program for Christian Scientists will be offered by David & Cindy Martin of Inspiresight, who live in the Yosemite area. David & Cindy are Christian Scientists, life-long Bible students, landscape architects and sustainable land use ecologists. The program focuses on the Biblical Nature Metaphors of Trees & Plants, and how the Bible and Mrs. Eddy's writings provide practical answers to today's most contemporary challenges. There will be a beautiful power point presentation with nature slides tracing Biblical truths, along with inspiring music.

To see more information about this program and register, go online to www.christiansciencelosaltos.org. You can also see the InspireSight flyer _____.